tx:style

The Mannington Commercial tx:style design challenge engages a community of more than 13,000 designers to become participants in our product development process. With over a half million votes cast, the winning design of the inaugural tx:style design challenge was Squareberry. The designer of Squareberry, Meagan Webb, worked with Mannington Commercial to develop her winning pattern into a full collection.

Inspired by the peace of nature's beauty, celebrating design details that combine organic shapes with simple geometry to create inspiring rhythms.
